Judge L.T.G. (Ted) Collins

Historic Judicial-Political Conflicts

Central East Ontario, Canada

Judiciary

City Council Member
Late 1960's

1998-2000	Bradburn, J.	Alderman
1998-2000	Branscombe, Nancy	Alderman
1950-1951	Braund, E. C.	Alderman
1912	Brown, J. B.	Alderman
1912-1913	Buller, W.	Alderman
1914-1915	Buller, W.	Mayor
1949-1956, 1963-1966	Burrows, A. B.	Alderman
1954	Burrows, A. B.	Mayor	replaced N. G. Graham December 1954
2004-2006	Cahill, Bernard	Councillor
1998-1999	Clarke, Henry	Alderman
2000-	Clarke, Henry	Councillor
1979-1982	Clements, A. J.	Alderman
1966-1968	Collins, Leonard T. G.	Alderman
1955-1957	Comstock, J.	Alderman	resigned November 1957 to run for Mayor
1920	Copping, R. V.	Alderman
1926-1945	Cotton, R. S.	Alderman
1959-1960	Crook, N. J.	Alderman
1986-1994, 1998-2000	Crough, Paul	Alderman
1920-1925	Crowe, J	Alderman
1966-1968	Csumrik, J. D.	Alderman
1969-1970	Csumrik, J. D.	Mayor
1962-1970, 1973-1978	Curtin, E. W.	Alderman
1941-1947	Curtis, G. F.	Alderman
1925-1927	Denne, Roland	Alderman
1928-1935	Denne, Roland	Mayor
1950-1954	Dewart, J. A.	Alderman	resigned November 1954 to run for Mayor
1955-1958	Dewart, J. A.	Mayor
1915-1918	Dobbin, F. H.	Alderman
1957-1958	Dobbin, R. L.	Alderman
1945-1950	Dodds, H.	Alderman
1981-1982	Donnelley, M. J.	Alderman

Auditor:	Edward Humpage, C.A.
Assessment Commissioner:	W. H. Parnell
Collector:	D. W. Hill
Clerk:	E. A. Outram
Treasurer:	D. W. Hill
City Solicitor:	Gordon H. T. Farquharson
Chief of Police:	W. J. Shrubb

Council of 1966

Mayor:	G. W. Powell
Aldermen:	J. J. Behan, A. B. Burrows, L. T. G. Collins, J. Csumrik, E. W. Curtin, Mrs. A. E. Holt, D. A. Loucks, G. Monkman, Wm. T. Spenceley, P. H. Turner
Auditor:	Edward Humpage, C.A.
Assessment Commissioner:	W. H. Parnell
Collector:	D. W. Hill
Clerk:	E. A. Outram
Treasurer:	D. W. Hill
City Solicitor:	Gordon H. T. Farquharson
Chief of Police:	J. Shrubb

Council of 1967

Mayor:	J. J. Behan
Aldermen:	N. D. Bowler, L. T. G. Collins, J. Csumrik, E. W. Curtin, J. A. Doris, Mrs. A. E. Holt, D. A. Loucks, F. Stenson, Wm. T. Spenceley, P. H. Turner
Auditor:	Edward Humpage, C.A.
Assessment Commissioner:	W. H. Parnell
Collector:	D. W. Hill
Clerk:	E. A. Outram
Treasurer:	D. W. Hill
City Solicitor:	Gordon H. T. Farquharson
Chief of Police:	W. J. Shrubb

Huffman Family, city council

1936-1939, 1942-1945	Glover, R. M.	Alderman
1912-1914, 1920-1921, 1937-1943	Gordon, G. N.	Alderman
1956-1963	Graham, B.	Alderman
1912	Graham, J. G.	Alderman
1951-1953	Graham, N. G.	Alderman	resigned 1952 and replaced by W. Beggs, resigned 1953 and replaced by R. E. Knox
1954	Graham, N. G.	Mayor	died December 1954, replaced by A. B. Burrows
1913-1915	Green, G. W.	Alderman
1925-1958	Greene J. M.	Alderman
2004-2006	Guiel, Terry	Councillor
1998-1999	Hall, Robert	Alderman
2000-	Hall, Robert	Councillor
1971-1974	Hamblin, F. A.	Alderman
1919-1922, 1928-1929, 1931-1937	Hamilton, J.	Alderman
1938-1945	Hamilton, J.	Mayor
1926-1927	Hancock, W. J.	Alderman
1975-1985	Harris, J. H.	Alderman
1986-1994	Harte-Maxwell, Lois	Alderman
1921	Hay, G. L.	Alderman
1983-1985	Hayes, S.	Alderman
2004-2006	Herring, Garry	Councillor
1971-1972	Higgins, E. K.	Alderman
1929-1934	Holland, D. J.	Alderman
1922-1923	Holloway, W. T.	Alderman
1926-1927	Holloway, W. T.	Mayor
1979-1985	Holnbeck, Gordon W.	Alderman
1954-1962, 1964-1976	Holt, A. E.	Alderman
1962	Holt, A. E.	Mayor	replaced Stanley A. McBride October 1962
1928-1930	Huffman, H. C.	Alderman
1958	Huntley, W. G.	Alderman
1938	Huycke, W. F.	Alderman

Drive designed and constructed pany in 1960

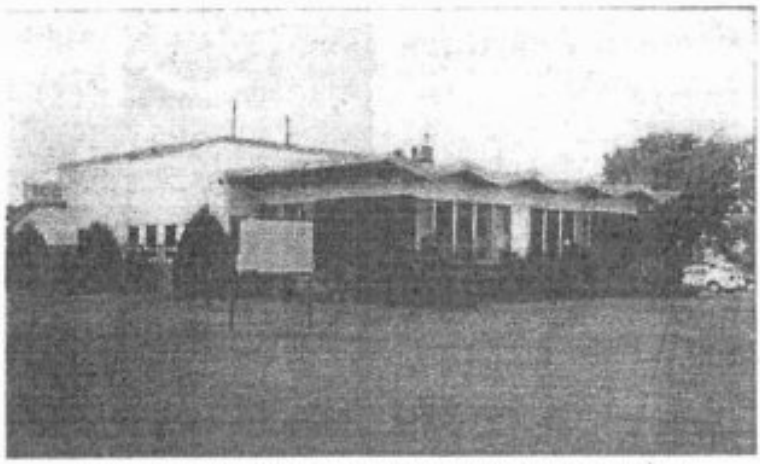
projects built during the history of CHARLES HUFFMAN LTD. I will note , however, three major projects accomplished during this time; the Peterborough Police Building (the tender was won by under $1000); the 120 unit Ontario Housing Project that was done in conjunction with the Peterborough Lumber Company in Peterborough and Port Hope; and perhaps the most visible monument, the 1967 Centennial Fountain in Little Lake.

During the 1950's and early 1960's, CHARLES HUFFMAN, LTD., continued to build a few houses; however, the next step was to build more commercial and other buildings. Churches became part of its expertise, some examples being Trinity Hall, Grace and St. Giles United Churches, and St. John's Anglican Church Hall. The downtown area included the 252 Charlotte Street Bradburn Building, stores for Ben Collis, Meyer Levine, a department store for Sandy's, and continued renovations for Bradburns and Comstocks. Other notable projects during this time were Trinity Hall (first job in Peterborough to use ready-mix concrete), Brookdale Plaza (first mall in the city) and the largest project to that date, Adam Scott Collegiate. This project was originally started by an out-of-town company that went bankrupt. CHARLES HUFFMAN, LTD., was given the contract on a cost plus fixed-fee basis with the goal of finishing the project in less than six months to have it ready for students by September. It was, except for the shop wing and the auditorium.



Office Building at 670 Crown Drive designed and constructed by the company in 1960

For many years Charlie had used his own home as his office--- first the apartment and then his house on Charlotte Street; as business increased he needed more space and staff. In the 50's, he had an upstairs office at 252 Charlotte Street. For storing equipment and supplies, and for doing shop work, he used four adjoining garages with inside walls removed, on John Street, a place that had been used by his father and grandfather before him.

In 1960 a new building, combining office, a garage, and storage was built on Crown Drive. Given a prominent place in the office was a display case with a slanted glass top containing hand tools, many handmade, that had belonged to Charles Huffman, Sr.

During the next decade the company expanded more and more. Hermann Ksander, a structural engineer, hired by the company in 1952 was appointed general manager in 1967; Charlie's son Harry Huffman entered the company in 1963 and became secretary-treasurer in 1966. Elwood Gillespie and Walter Bucknell longtime employees, along with Gordon Mullen were given supervisor positions.

The company began its own design-and-build programme as well with working with architectural firms. Projects were pursued outside of town, notably in Lakefield, Cobourg, and Port Hope. I have included a detailed list of the many projects built during the history of CHARLES HUFFMAN LTD. I will note , however, three major projects accomplished during this time; the Peterborough Police Building (the tender was won by under $1000); the 120 unit Ontario Housing Project that was done in conjunction with the Peterborough Lumber Company in Peterborough and Port Hope; and perhaps the most visible monument, the 1967 Centennial Fountain in Little Lake.

Over the years many people were employed by the Huffmans. Some were employed by them for their entire working lives; people such as Sam Whitaker and Isodore Gordon, carpenters who started with Charles Sr.; Gordon Mullen, carpenter who started with Charles Jr.,as did Ward Rosebush and Mel Jude, labourers.

Walter Bucknell upon discharge from the Navy in 1945 took a six-month Veterans' Trade School course at Brockville and then was taken on by the Huffmans as an apprentice carpenter. He remained with the company until his retirement 38 years later. His son Jan was also an apprentice carpenter with the

CHARLES HUFFMAN LIMITED

PETERBOROUGH CENTENNIAL MUSEUM AND ARCHIVES
Ref:
This copy is made for research purposes only and is not to be used without the consent of the owner of copyright Permission
may arise from the use of this print is assumed responsibility

Ontario Housing Project
Hilliard Street
Year: 1969

The Peterborough Police Building
Architects: Craig, Zeidler, & Strong
Builder: Charles Huffman, Ltd.
Year: 1967

New police chief takes the reins by Anita Locke http://lakefieldherald.com/08_22_2008/chief.html

Amid much pomp and ceremony, Murray Rodd was sworn-in as the new Chief of the Peterborough Lakefield Community Police (PLCP) Service last Friday. He is the twelfth Police Chief for the PLCP.

Chief Rodd took over the reins August 15, replacing Chief Terrence McLaren who retired July 31. Chief McLaren had been at the helm as Chief since October, 1997.

Chief Rodd is a 25 year veteran of the police service. The 45 year old has been promoted up through the ranks of the PLCP, serving as Constable, Sergeant, Staff Sergeant and Inspector.

Dr. Thomas Symons, Chair of the Police Services Board, said that Chief Rodd was the unanimous choice.

"The board is extremely pleased to have Chief Rodd, with his experience, depth of knowledge and passion to lead the Peterborough Lakefield Community Police Service."

He added, "The fact that he is a long-serving member is an additional benefit as he has seen our police service and community grow, and has proven himself an adept leader in meeting the challenges of that growth."

The Honourable Mr. Justice L.T.G. Collins presided over the swearing-in ceremony. Justice Collins also did the swearing-in for Chief Rodd when he first became a constable with the police service on June 20, 1983.

Chief Rodd specifically requested that Justice Collins preside over the swearing-in ceremony last week.

The ceremony included speeches by Dr. Symons (the Reviewing Officer), Justice Collins, retiring Chief Terrence McLaren, new Chief Murray Rodd, MC Major (retired) Bruce Anderson and a Benediction by the Reverend Warren Vollmer (PLCP Chaplain).

The Hastings Prince Edwards Regiment Pipes and Drums provided music for the March Past, musical interlude and other activities at the event. Dr. Symons also did an Inspection of the Guard in his role as Reviewing Officer.

Sgt. Walter DiClemente of the PLCP said, "The ranks are really excited about the choice. Chief Rodd is a very popular choice amongst the people within the service, as well as the community."

At the swearing-in ceremony more than 50 officers were in attendance, and spent the day practicing for the march past and other events of the ceremony. There was an excellent turnout of civilian members as well.

The ceremony itself was a history-making event. There were three platoons of officers and parade marshals. Staff Sgt. Ted Boynton was in charge of working with the whole group.

Born and raised in Lindsay, Chief Rodd moved to Peterborough after graduating high school to attend the Police Foundations course at Sir Sandford Fleming College.

Chief Rodd also holds a Masters degree in Business from the University of Leicester.

The Peterborough Police Service was created in January 1850. At that time, there was a Chief Constable (William Cummings) and four part time constables.

In 1978, Inspector Gordon Dawson designed one of the first successful community policing programs in Canada, focusing on preventative rather than reactive style of policing. The PLCP and its new Chief continue to embrace the concept of community policing today.

In 1999, the Peterborough Police Service amalgamated with the Lakefield Police Service after approximately 125 years of policing in the village.

Previous Chiefs in Lakefield included Price Morris, Paul Creighton, Gord Belleghem, Ted Collins and Jeff Pritchard. At the time of amalgamation, Lakefield Police Chief Jeff Pritchard became an Inspector with the Peterborough Lakefield Police Service.

Click here for copyright permissions!
Copyright 2008 Lakefield Herald Ltd.

Mayor John Fallis gets ready to go bald, Justice Ted Collins REALLY retires, Moarcats spouts poetry and two Danish originals go to auction

Farewell to the bench: When Ted Collins turns 75 on Monday, he closes the book on a long legal career. He officially retired as a judge years ago, but still works regularly shifts to fill in for other judges.

He says he will miss the bench but we're certain he'll find many things to fill his days. Happy birthday.

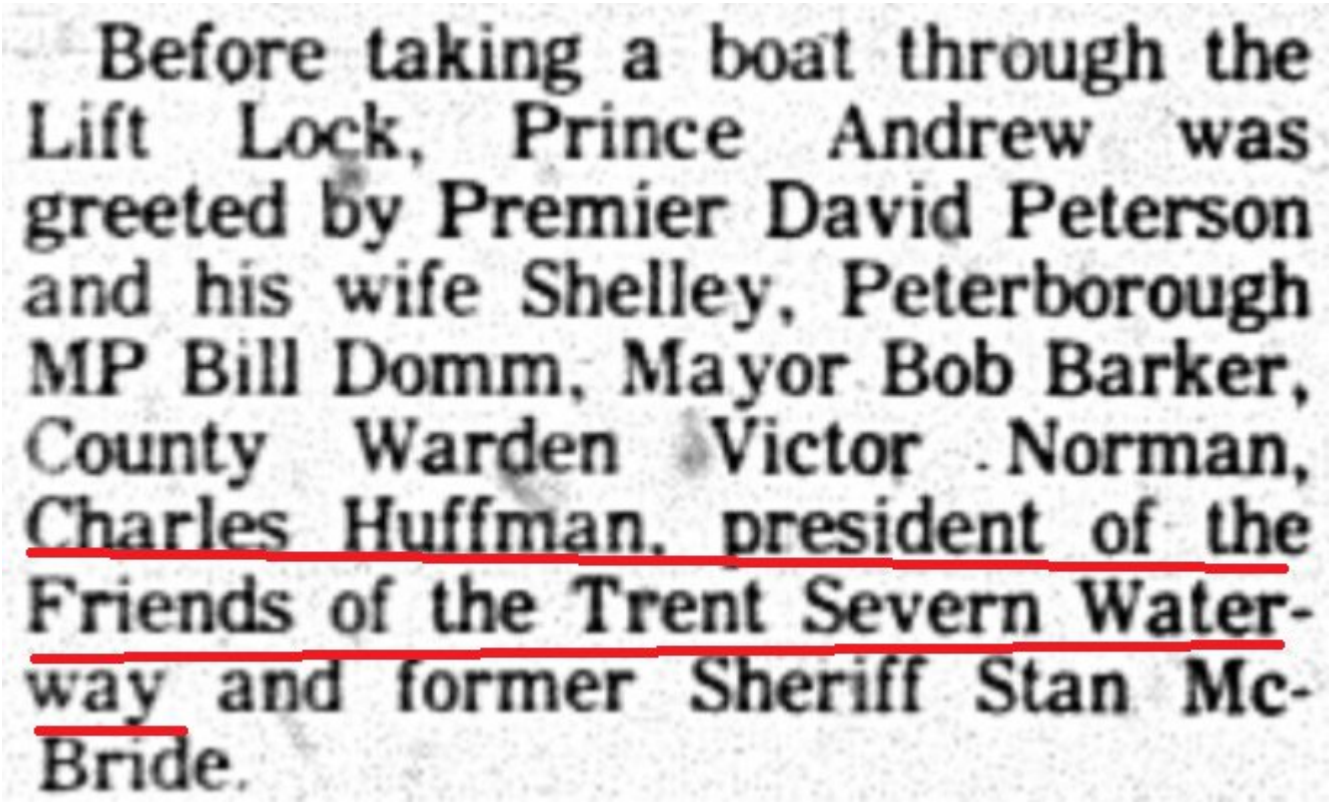
(Coincidentally, Mr. Collins shares a birthday with Peterborough This Week's Paul Rellinger, so we wish him a happy birthday as well.)

Published Apr 24 2012 by My Kawartha

Whoops! Happy 74th Birthday Judge Collins

Monday, April 23rd is Collins 74th bday! (yet his age was withheld in court for "privacy" reasons.

THE PRINCE ANDREW CONNECTION



Before taking a boat through the Lift Lock, Prince Andrew was greeted by Premier David Peterson and his wife Shelley, Peterborough MP Bill Domm, Mayor Bob Barker, County Warden Victor Norman, Charles Huffman, president of the Friends of the Trent Severn Waterway and former Sheriff Stan McBride.

Prince Andrew recalls his fine times in Lakefield

BY CRAIG HARRIS
Examiner Staff Writer

Prince Andrew said Sunday he could think of no better place to start in the family business than Canada and no more appropriate finale to his first official tour than a visit to Peterborough.

Speaking to an estimated 4,000 people when he offically opened the Trent-Severn Waterway's new Activity Centre next to the Lift Lock, Prince Andrew said it was fitting in this, the International Year of Youth, that he take part in a ceremony in Peterborough "when my youth was enriched by the fine Canadian education I received just up the road here at Lakefield."

In 1977 Prince Andrew attended Lakefield College School.

"In the last eight days I've travelled nearly eight-and-a-half thousand miles, through three provinces, 39 official engagements, 12 speeches and signed 30 visitor's books. They say statistics can be misleading, but when one starts out in the family business you have to begin somewhere."

Prince Andrew proved Sunday that while his whirlwi tour of Canada has left him a little slow of foot, it hasn't dulled his wit at all.

The 25-year-old prince turned a stumble onto the dignitaries' platform into an endearing moment as he staggered across the stage in mock confusion then made light of the event in his address.

About 4,000 people stood sundrenched at the foot of the Lift Lock watching him as he descended through the lock on a boat and then opened the new Activity Centre.

"They say things happen in threes," he told the crowd.

"This is the third time I've fallen upstairs in the last week. I don't think I'll do it again because I don't have many more to climb."

He said the schedule for his first-ever official tour has been a gruelling one.

Prince Andrew, who arrived in Peterborough Saturday from Sydney, Nova Scotia, spent Saturday night and his free time Sunday as a guest at the school.

"I spent six very happy months in Lakefield and I would like to say publicly thank you for those six exciting and rewarding months," Prince Andrew told the crowd Sunday.

Lakefield headmaster Terry Guest said yesterday Prince Andrew shared a barbecue dinner with some of members of the 1983 canoe trip he took through the Northwest Territories and spent a quiet "thoroughly enjoyable time" at the school.

Guest said he was impressed with the manner his royal visitor handled his first tour.

"He's become a mature young man, he's become very sensible and a pleasant person to be with," Guest said, adding "he always was fun."

Guest also said he was "really pleased with the tribute he paid the school."

Before taking a boat through the Lift Lock, Prince Andrew was greeted by Premier David Peterson and his wife Shelley, Peterborough MP Bill Domm, Mayor Bob Barker, County Warden Victor Norman, Charles Huffman, president of the Friends of the Trent Severn Waterway and former Sheriff Stan McBride.

McBride, who recently retired drew a broad grin from Prince Andrew when he told him "I worked for

(See WARM, Page 3)

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

TOMORROW: PARTLY CLOUDY | TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1985 | 30 CENTS

as they boarded the plane. Some were carrying shopping bags after a trip Monday to the U.S. military shopping centre near the Wiesbaden hospital.

The 29 former hostages had been driven to the Rhein-Main base with their relatives in three buses, after an overnight stay in Wiesbaden.

They had arrived there shortly after dawn Monday, following their release in Beirut on Sunday, after a drive to Damascus, the Syrian capital, and then the all-night flight to Frankfurt.

The American Forces Radio Net-

locations in the Mid might be targets.

The State Departme
was taking legal act
matic steps to isolate port, and State Sec
Shultz said the Unite
the identities of the hij

In a television int was asked if the Unite go after the hijackers.

"We will," he said.
things, I think there that will be taken, an
to take them.'"

QUICKLY:

Lindsay woman Canadian champ

LONDON (Special) — Lindsay's Rose Ann Jackson captured the Canadian field archery ladies' professional title at a three-day competition here on the weekend.

Jackson shot 537 of 560 in the hunter's round Saturday; 523 of 560 in the field round Sunday and then scored her first ever perfect score, 560, Sunday in the animal round.

"I was joking that I had to turn pro to finally shoot a perfect round," said Jackson. "A lot of people might think it's easy to shoot a perfect score in the animal round because you only have to shoot one arrow at each target but the fact is, if you miss you lose four points each time. Also, it's the last day of competition and you get nervous."

Although she won the ladies' title and the $50 prize, Jackson competed against the men and took second prize money of $50 or as she put it, "just enough to buy me a cup of coffee on the way home." As a pro, Jackson will be eligible to shoot for money prizes and can now seek a sponsor. She said there are four companies interested in sponsoring her.

Exxon to pay up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Exxon, the world's largest corporation, was ordered Monday to pay more than $2 billion for overpricing crude oil during the 1970s.

A special court held Exxon Corp. liable for $896.5 million in overcharges, plus interest, from 1975 until 1981 for crude oil from its Hawkins Field in east Texas.

Super Loto

TORONTO (CP) — The $1-million winning numbers in Sunday's Super Loto draw were 2419848, 2419964, 1471832 and 2015152.

Five numbers, each worth $100,000, were 621B182, 033A998, 963A819, 281A642 and 652B468.

Lottario

TORONTO (CP) — The six winning numbers in Saturday's Lottario draw were 4, 6, 17, 21, 25 and 27. The bonus number was 15.

The early bird numbers were 1, 23, 30 and 38.

Lotto 649

TORONTO (CP) — The six winning numbers in Saturday's Lotto 6-49 draw were 2, 10, 39, 46, 47 and 48. The bonus number was 35.

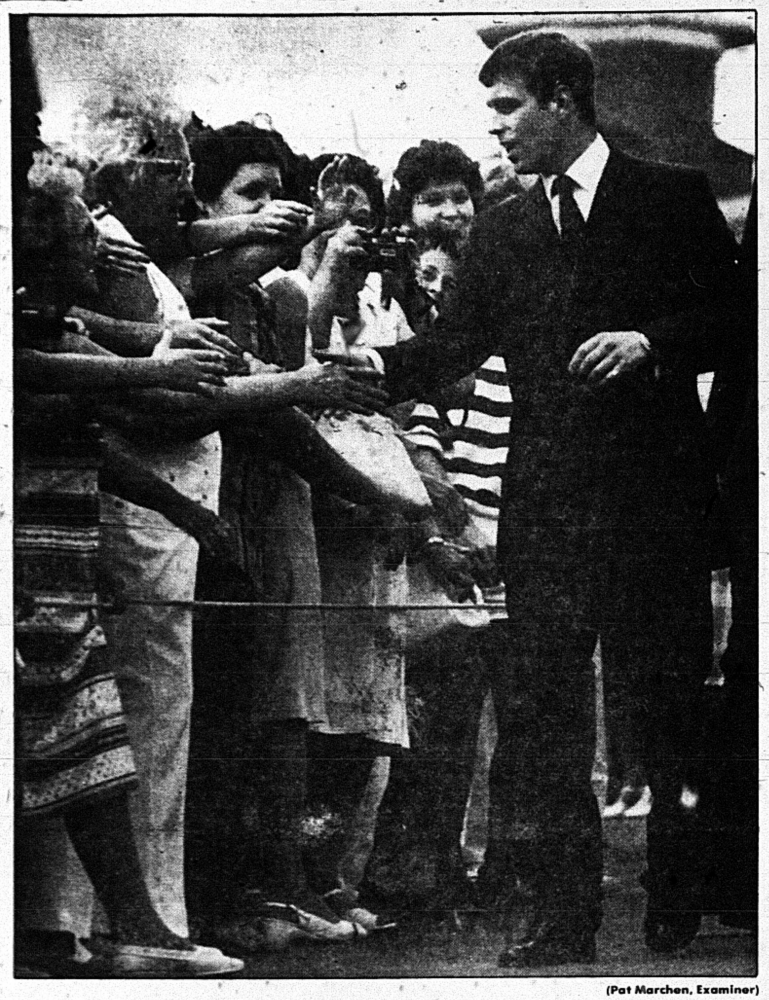
There was no winner of the jackpot prize of $2,393,955.30.

The jackpot pool is expected to grow to more than $4.3 million for the draw next week.

INSIDE:

Ann Landers	17
City news	3,20
Classified	18,19,20
Comics	17
District	10,11
Editorials	4
Entertainment	21
Family	8,9
Sports	13,14,15
TV listings	21

"And what happens if the



(Pat Marchen, Examiner)

Prince Andrew shakes hands with a few of the 4,000 people gathered to see him

Prince Andrew recalls his fine times in Lakefield

BY CRAIG HARRIS
Examiner Staff Writer

Prince Andrew said Sunday he could think of no better place to start in the family business than Canada and no more appropriate finale to his first official tour than a visit to Peterborough.

Speaking to an estimated 4,000 people when he offically opened the Trent-Severn Waterway's new Activity Centre next to the Lift Lock, Prince Andrew said it was fitting in this, the International Year of Youth, that he take part in a ceremony in Peterborough "when my youth was enriched by the fine Canadian education I received just up the road here at Lakefield."

In 1977 Prince Andrew attended Lakefield College School.

"In the last eight days I've travelled nearly eight-and-a-half thousand miles, through three provinces, 39 official engagements, 12 speeches and signed 30 visitor's books. They say statistics can be misleading, but when one starts out in the family business you have to begin somewhere."

Prince Andrew moved Sunday that while his whirlwi tour of Canada has left him a little slow of foot, it hasn't dulled his wit at all.

The 25-year-old prince turned a stumble onto the dignitaries' platform into an endearing moment as he staggered across the stage in mock confusion then made light of the event in his address.

About 4,000 people stood sundrenched at the foot of the Lift Lock watching him as he descended through the lock on a boat and then opened the new Activity Centre.

"They say things happen in threes," he told the crowd.

"This is the third time I've fallen upstairs in the last week. I don't think I'll do it again because I don't have many more to climb."

He said the schedule for his first-ever official tour has been a gruelling one.

Prince Andrew, who arrived in Peterborough Saturday from Sydney, Nova Scotia, spent Saturday night and his free time Sunday as a guest at the school.

"I spent six very happy months in Lakefield and I would like to say publicly thank you for those six exciting and rewarding months," Prince Andrew told the crowd Sunday.

Lakefield headmaster Terry Guest said yesterday Prince Andrew shared a barbecue dinner with some of members of the 1983 canoe trip he took through the Northwest Territories and spent a quiet "thoroughly enjoyable time" at the school.

Guest said he was impressed with the manner his royal visitor handled his first tour.

"He's become a mature young man, he's become very sensible and a pleasant person to be with," Guest said, adding "he always was fun."

Guest also said he was "really pleased with the tribute he paid the school."

Before taking a boat through the Lift Lock, Prince Andrew was greeted by Premier David Peterson and his wife Shelley, Peterborough MP Bill Domm, Mayor Bob Barker, County Warden Victor Norman, Charles Huffman, president of the Friends of the Trent Severn Waterway and former Sheriff Stan McBride.

McBride, who recently retired, drew a broad grin from Prince Andrew when he told him "I worked for

(See WARM, Page 3)

U.S. w

BEIRUT (Reuter)
carrying the signatur
(Holy War) said tod States would face "
tacks if it retaliated f
to Beirut of a Trans jetliner.

Washington would a sponsible for any Isra
tacks, the typewritter
livered to a foreign Beirut said.

Islamic Jihad's figl
"a nightmare that pur
U.S. administration)
may be and strike at t
the region and through the statement said.

The statement calle
jack "a great victor
pressed and a clear
America and Israel."

The 17-day crisis with the release of the can hostages held by Moslem gunmen in Be

Wha

If you've ever sai
ing to do in Peterbo
ada day weekend
to try to prove it.

Peterborough an
ing areas were BUS
BUSY.

The summer fes
Park went all week
shows a street dan
ral activities and pl

Yesterday's Can
had thousands of pe
George Street. It
later by a big firew
wrap it all up last n

Thousands were for the wrap up.

More than 4,000
to the Lift Lock Su to catch a glimps
drew who opened centre.

The antique an 8 kill

Eight people were k
ffic accidents in the district over the Cana weekend.

Jamie Charles, 32,
neath, her four-year
and Kenneth Valique Springs, Illinois, we
day at about 6:40 p.
collision on Highway kilometres north of C

Kyle Charles, 9, w
Children's Hospital i ambulance, where h
good condition this m

OPP say Mrs. Cha
north and Valiquet so

A passenger in th
Daniel McDonell, 23, treated for minor inj
General Hospital and

A four-vehicle acci kilometres south of L
the life of 35-year-ol piak.

Lindsay OPP said
bound on Highway 3
collided in the southb
northbound pick-up t
James Savage, 35, was in satisfactory to this morning in Lind morial Hospital with and wrist lacerations.

The drivers of two s
following Karpiak suf
juries when their ve
with the other vehicles

That accident is unc
tigation.

On Sunday at about
Audette, 10, of 87
Oshawa, was killed in
on crash at the inters way 7 and Victoria C
just west of Lindsay.

Rave reviews for Activity Centre

BY JACK MARCHEN
Examiner Staff Writer

Sunday shaped up as "just another boring day" for 13-year-old Kris Sieber. When his mother suggested going to the Peterborough Lift Lock, a place he had been many times, "I thought 'that's real boring'" — until he got there. He ended up going through the new activity centre three times.

After watching a model of the world famous lock, which is accompanied by a voice track explaining how it works, Sieber said, "I really like this place. There's a lot of good old photographs, old tools (similar to ones used during the construction of the locks which opened in 1904) and a movie theatre. We're coming back again tomorrow."

The Lift Lock Activity Centre, opened Sunday by Prince Andrew, is open to the public during canal navigational hours, which during summer months is 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

From the time the centre doors opened a constant stream of visitors toured the facility. Centre co-ordinator Peter McArthur said there was no way to estimate how many people visited the centre. "All I can say was it was very crowded," he said.

There are two main entrances, one on the canal side and the other facing the parking lot. Inside, a visitor first sees a circular foyer where a Parks Canada information booth is situated along with a large map of the Trent-Severn Waterway.

Friends of the Trent-Severn Waterway have a shop offering souvenirs and numerous books on Peterborough and about the waterway. The shop is adjacent to the west entrance. A multi-purpose room, which McArthur says will soon be used to show visitors a slide show of the historic and natural aspects of the waterway, is on the north side.

There are four guides, three of whom are students from Quebec on a cultural exchange program, something Parks Canada has been involved in for five years.

The section that fascinated Sieber and others interviewed is that dealing with the historic aspect of the Lift Lock, how it was built, the equipment and materials used and the people who did it.

A large-screen video about how the locks work gives a viewer the impression of going over in a boat.

"There are a lot of historic facts that I found very interesting and I know many other people did too," said Jessie McCumber of 1001 Talwood Ave. "It's nice to know how it all came about."

McArthur said there is enough factual information with displays that "we believe a person can go through three times and always learn something new."

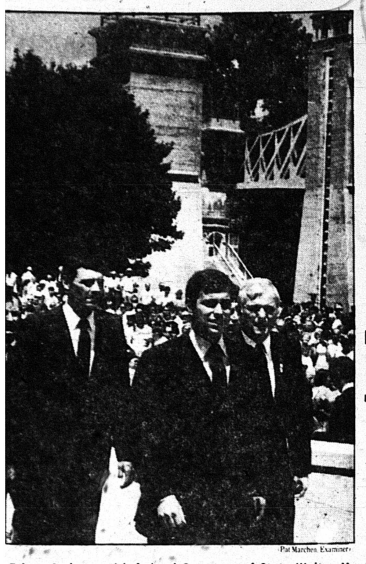
Cora and Irwin Tripp of Port Perry have been visiting the Lift Lock for 45 years.

"It's a special place for us," said Tripp. "My uncle was one of the workers during its construction and claims he was on the first boat that went over, and during the trip he sat in a wheelbarrow. For years he said 'I went over in a wheelbarrow.'"

The Tripps looked, but couldn't find the uncle in any of the old photographs, but found out a great deal of new information.

"Having the centre is a good idea," said Mrs. Tripp. "A lot of people will find interest in it. Too bad somebody didn't think about it 45 years ago."

THE CITY



Pat Marchen, Examiner

Prince Andrew, with federal Secretary of State Walter McLean, right, heads for a tour of the new Activity Centre while thousands look on.

Warm greetings for Prince Andrew

(continued from P. 1)

your mum for 23 years."

Prince Andrew seemed particularly amused at the media boat, precariously laden with photographers as it preceded him through the lift lock.

"I don't think that's very safe," he remarked.

Going down the Lift Lock on the cabin cruiser Paushel V, owned and driven by local man Manson Cathcart, was a new experience for the event's special guest.

"During my visit here I have sailed boats, inspected cattle, flown helicopters and turned the lights out on 20,000 people in Halifax. The one thing I have never done is descend 20 metres in a cast iron bathtub," he told the large crowd.

McBride welcomed Prince Andrew to Peterborough, an area "which has always been loyal to the Crown." He told Prince Andrew anything he wanted to come back the city would roll out the red carpet.

McBride was followed by federal Secretary of State Walter McLean, who said Prince Andrew "adds lustre to" the opening of the new Activity Centre.

McLean drew a mixed reaction from the crowd and a look from Peterson when he told Prince Andrew they would be happy to "roll out the blue carpet as well."

The opening featured the unveiling of a plaque and a tour of the facility which was finished just days earlier and features a theatre, a museum, a gift shop and a working model of the Lift Lock. Once again, Prince Andrew signed the guest book.

Huffman presented him with a Friends of the Trent Severn Waterway pin and a lifetime membership to the FTSW.

FTSW Member Alicia Perry then gave him a copy of "I Remember" a collection of interviews with people reminiscing about the canal as well as a reprinted 1911 tour book.

When she told Prince Andrew some of the ads in the book were quite funny he said "I'm sure they were serious at the time."

Prince Andrew's remarks were greeted enthusiastically by the crowd, as was the prince himself when he walked through the throng back to the canal.

"Andrew! Andrew! Prince Andrew over here!" young women cried as he walked past. Prince Andrew, who has developed a reputation for doing the unexpected in public, made it to the boat without incident, however.

Back onboard the Paushel V, he reviewed an antique boat show while being ferried down stream. At Lock 20 he came ashore and thanked members of the media for covering his tour.

The approximately 30 members of the Canadian and British press caused something of a different problem for waterway officials organizing the event.

"This is the opposite of what Parks Canada normally does," said Regional Information officer Bill Milliken.

"Usually I'm trying to attract the media, instead of roping off areas to keep them confined."

Prince Andrew told reporters he was sorry he didn't get to meet the Ontario press as he had their eastern counterparts in an informal reception in Halifax.

When asked when he might be returning to Canada Prince Andrew said he didn't know because "my naval duties take up a lot of time."

Security tightened around him at this point as the police apparently hadn't been told Prince Andrew was going to talk directly to the media and several reporters were shouldered out of the way as he was hustled into a waiting car.

About 20 city police were on hand to traffic and security at the event, while the OPP contributed several constables and two police boats.

City police Staff Sergeant Bob Morris said from their point of view the event was "fantastic, there were no problems at all."

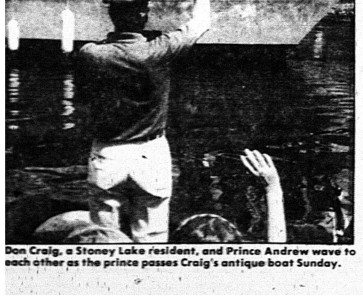
The Prince returned to Lakefield for a private evening and was scheduled to leave for home yesterday from Canadian Forces Base Trenton.

An incident at Peterborough Airport during the prince's arrival Saturday which was reported in the Globe and Mail as a "near mid-air crash" has been "blown out of proportion" according to airport manager Mel O'Brien.

"There was no problem at all," he said.

According to O'Brien a small private plane landed at the airport just before Prince Andrew's Canadian Forces Cosmo 580 turbo-prop arrived. The pilot of the Canadian Forces plane decided to circle the airport before landing without incident.

He said while it may have been a breach of protocol for the private plane to be in the area at the time of arrival of Prince Andrew's aircraft, there was nothing unusual about it and "there was never any danger to start with."



Don Craig, a Stoney Lake resident, and Prince Andrew wave to each other as the prince passes Craig's antique boat Sunday.

These boats classics in any era

The grey 1911 Mullins launch which made its way up the Otonabee River to Peterborough Saturday at a gentle eight miles an hour brought with it the atomosphere of the era in which it was made and widely used.

Its occupants, the MacStephen family of Picton and their relatives, were dressed in Edwardian garb, and Ken MacStephen, owner and skipper, said the voyage in the galvanized steel vessel "was a nice leisurely one."

As for other boaters along the Otonabee "that weren't going so fast they didn't notice us...many thought we were crazy, because instead of going to beat hell, we were enjoying the scenery and the roses."

The MacStephens docked alongside 37 other vintage craft in the Trent-Severn Canal below the Peterborough Lift Lock, where the Friends of the Trent-Severn Waterway put on its annual antique and classic boat show over the Canada Day holiday weekend.

The event was held in conjunction with the visit of Prince Andrew and opening of the new Lift Lock Activity Centre. On Sunday the vessels held a sailpast at Point St. Charles on Little Lake and a regatta.

MacStephen had the oldest boat in the water and the second oldest in the show.

The oldest boat award went to Ray Bell of Cobourg, who had a 1908 Lapstake wine glass stern vessel built by the William English Company of Peterborough, which operated here from 1864 to 1920 when it was sold to Peterborough Canoe Company.

Bell said the vintage vessel, which hadn't been restored yet, was used in its hey-day to take a girlfriend for a leisurely trip or perhaps a wealthy cottager would have hired someone for a ride to church in it on Sundays. In 1908 it sold for about $75. However "old age and inflation" have beefed up the price since, he said. Bell had it up for sale at the show for $2,500.

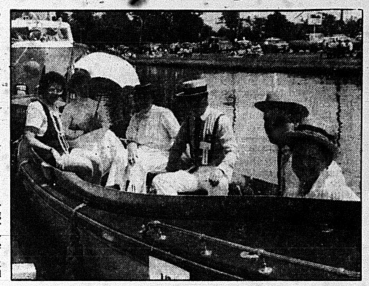
Most of the vessels were from the 1930s and 1940s. There were cruisers, mahogany inboard runabouts, a converted steam-powered life boat and numerous skiffs.

Most were made of wood and because many only saw water during shows (wooden vessels take on water until the wood is seasoned and expands) there was an award for the most water bailed.

It was an award MacStephen didn't have a hope of winning and was "glad of it."

His steel vessel, which had a steering wheel mounted on the side, was made by the W.H. Mullins Company of Salem, Ohio. When he bought it in 1981 from the great grandson of the man who bought it in 1911 he got the original correspondence from the company and bill of sale.

The price then was $493 with all the accessories, which included such items as brass rails, a bow fender, cushions, flag poles and a row boat. When MacStephens acquired it most of the accessories, with the exception of such items as the row boat, were still on it.



The 38 entries in the annual antique and classic boat show over the Canada Day weekend included this 1911 Mullins Launch from Picton skippered by Ken MacStephen, sitting centre with sunglasses. Passengers, from bow to stern, are Jay MacStephen, 11, Wilfred Shier, Ruth MacStephen, Georgy MacStephen (with parasol) and Nancy Shier.

It had been in a barn for many years and along with being in good condition it is unique in that it's the only one of its kind known to exist, he said. MacStephens believes many of the boats had been scrapped for the war effort during the First World War.

Show participants came from throughout Ontario and one from New York State.

The dry land display included boats and numerous vintage inboard and outboard motors, some that were covered in chrome and that started by pull or crank.

In Brief

Suspect arrested

A 26-year-old man who had been released Friday from Burnt Rapids Reformatory was back in jail Sunday after city police arrested a man following a break-in at Co-op District Services on Lansdowne Street.

Police say they were alerted to a break-in after a burglar alarm went off at the 861 Lansdowne St. store at about 1:27 a.m. When they arrived a man, who was seen in the building, ran outside and into a rear field where he was arrested.

Gordon Dunlop, 26, of no fixed address, was charged with break, enter and theft, possession of house breaking tools and possession of stolen coveralls and gloves. He is to appear in provincial court today.

Man charged

A 23-year-old Oakville, Ont. man was to face three break-and-enter charges in provincial court this morning after police caught him inside a Peter Robinson College residence Saturday night.

Police say they received a call about a break-in in progress at the George Street facility at about 11:40 p.m. When they arrived they found the doors of units 4,5 and 6 had been forced open.

Roger Bell of Oakville was charged with two counts of break and enter with intent and one of break, enter and theft.

Guns stolen

A thief or thieves made off with $3,000 cash and three firearms valued at an equal amount after breaking into a Walkerfield Avenue house sometime over the weekend.

David Munro of 614 Walkerfield Ave. told police the money was stolen from a closet and 12 and 20 gauge pump shotguns and a .22 calibre rifle with scope were stolen from an attic area. Also missing were several boxes of assorted ammunition.

Police say entry was gained through a rear milk chute and all rooms in the house were rummaged through.

The Munro family had been away from 3:30 a.m. Saturday until last night.

Hits pole

A 16-year-old Peterborough resident who turned off the family car's headlights when he intended to dim the highbeams, turned left onto Harper Road and crashed into a hydro pole early Sunday morning, police report.

The young offender, described by police as an inexperienced driver, overshot the turn from Highway 28 onto Harper at about 1 a.m.

He was treated for a bump to his head and a bruised shin at Civic Hospital and then released.

Damage to the car is estimated by police at $4,000.

Stolen bicycle

Police charged an 18-year-old Peterborough man with possession of a stolen bicycle after the bicycle owner, who reported it stolen a week earlier, noticed it chained to a post outside Smitty's Restaurnat Saturday.

Laura Levay of 709 Water St. reported her bicycle stolen June 24. Rick Winter of 615½ George St. North will face a charge of possessing stolen property in provincial court Friday.

Purse stolen

A 41-year-old Peterborough man was to appear in provincial court today to face a charge of break, enter and theft after police report a man entered a Walker Avenue house through a bedroom basement window and stole a purse. Two young girls in the room watched the suspect, without him knowing, take the purse and leave.

The purse was later recovered at beavermead Park minus $10 and identification.

Wayne Harvey, 41, of 366 Aylmer St., room 112, who is before the courts on a charge of unlawfully being in a Sherbrooke Street dwelling last month, was charged.

Top dogs

Toronto-area dog owners chalked up wins with their dogs at the Kawartha Kennel Club's annual dog show held over the weekend, event officials report.

Saturday's top dog was Raglan's Ragtime Clancy, a West Highland white terrier belonging to Penny Delle-Scorer.

Best dog on Sunday was Hobbithall Ashwood High Class, an English cocker spaniel owned by J. and M. Main.

Monday's winning dog was Ebonylane's Buccaneer Gold, a Labrador retriever owned by P. Donovan.

Single-car mishap

A 26-year-old man was charged with impaired and careless driving after a single-vehicle accident Saturday on River Road North.

Police say the accident happened at about 11:15 a.m. and estimated damage at $5,000.

A passenger, Sherry Kimberly, 24, of 1900 Television Rd. was treated for minor injuries at Civic Hospital and released.

Terry King, 27, of 458 Rubidge Street, a halfway house for parolees, was also charged with having more than the legal amount of alcohol in his blood and having liquor readily accessible while driving. His parole has been suspended.

Police charge 47

A survey of 11 area OPP detachments and four municipal police forces in the district this morning shows that 47 impaired driving charges were laid over the three-day Canada Day weekend, along with the issuing of 17 12-hour licence suspensions in which drivers weren't charged.

Police also report 114 liquor seizures under the provincial Liquor Licence Act, mainly from vehicles and boats.

City police report laying five impaired driving charges and issuing six 12-hour licence suspensions where drivers were not charged. Peterborough police also report four liquor seizures.

Cobourg OPP reported laying 11 impaired driving charges, the highest in the area. A spokesman attributed the number of charges to a special traffic squad that operated for part of the weekend.

Campbellford OPP reported laying eight impaired driving charges and making 19 liquor seizures. Peterborough OPP laid five impaired driving charges and had 10 liquor seizures.

Lindsay OPP had 24 liquor seizures and Coboconk OPP 23.

Bancroft OPP reported a very light long weekend, laying no impaired driving charges and making only two liquor seizures. A spokesman said 11 roadside Alert tests were administered and all the drivers passed.

Demeter trial nearing end

Lawyers on both sides of the Peter Demeter counselling-to-commit-murder trial are to give their final arguments to the jury today with defence lawyer Edmund Schofield renewing his claim Demeter has been framed.

The bulk of the defence evidence, including two-and-a-half days of testimony from the 52-year-old former Mississauga builder himself, has been aimed at proving Demeter is the victim of a 12-year vendetta by Peel deputy chief William Teggart.

Demeter says following the 1973 murder of his wife Christine, Teggart approached him and demanded about $250,000 in return for calling an inquest. Demeter said he was told if he didn't pay police would pin the murder on him. In 1974 Demeter was convicted for arranging the murder of his wife and sentenced to life in prison.

In 1983, just before he was to have been paroled, Demeter was charged with counselling former Peterborough gym owner and bodybuilder Mike Lane, 35, and Anthony Preston, 46, of Hamilton, to murder Stuart Demeter, 20, the son of Demeter's third cousin Dr. Steven Demeter, 62, of Toronto.

Demeter has argued he was framed by the police who were working with Lane.

He claims video tapes which apparently show he and Lane discussing a kidnapping and murder were altered by police to include the sound from more than 20 hours of tapes he made with Lane to help him get a roll in the movie Martin's Day, which was to be shot near Peterborough.

The 10-man, two-woman jury is expected to consider their verdict today, the 14th day of the trial.

Calendar of events

TUESDAY, JULY 2

Play: Kawartha Summer Theatre presents There Goes the Bride, an English farce, at Lindsay's Academy Theatre, at 7:30 Tuesday and 8:30 p.m. Wednesday to Saturday with a Wednesday matinee at 2 p.m.

Swim: The Trent Swim Club is sponsoring a summer swim program for beginner to advanced swimmers from July 2 to August 8 from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Registration is July 2 at Trent pool at 4:30 p.m. Cost is $30 for no-members. For more information call Carol Ross at 745-3435.

Arbor Theatre: Gardner McKay's Sea Marks, an Irish love story, opens at Wenjack Theatre at 8 p.m. Continues Mondays to Saturdays to July 20 with Wednesday matinees at 2:30 p.m.

Softball: Regular city league doubleheader, East City Bowl, 7 p.m.

Blood Donor Clinic: Legion Hall, Murray Street, 1-8 p.m.

English Dancers: Learn early English and American dances with the Peterborough English Dancers at Crary Park Tuesdays July 2, 16, 30 and Aug. 13, 27 from 7 to 9 p.m. For information call 743-0512.

Babysitting Course: Canada Employment Centre for Students is offering two four-day babysitting courses July 2 and 8, mornings from 9 a.m. to noon. Interested students apply at the centre or call 743-3815.

Lacrosse: Peterborough Lansdowne Place Maulers play Etobicoke in OLA Junior A play at Memorial Centre, at 8 p.m.

Kawartha Downs: 10-race card, post time 7:30 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 3

Card Party: Ladies Auxiliary Branch 52 is holding a card party at the Legion Hall, Murray Street, at 8 p.m. Admission $1.

Quilt Sale: And Scottish Tea to celebrate the late Martha Hutchison's birthday at Hutchison House, 270 Brock St. Quilt sale and display opens at 1 p.m. and continues to July 31. Tea from 2-4 p.m. Wednesdays throughout the summer.

Cribbage: Open progressive cribbage at Legion Hall, Murray Street, at 1:30 p.m. Admission $1. Proceeds to community projects.

Healing Mass: Good Shepherd Pastoral Ministry, Mount St. Joseph, at 7:30 p.m.

Pat Marchen, Examiner

Prince Andrew, with federal Secretary of State Walter McLean, right, heads for a tour of the new Activity Centre while thousands look on.

Warm greetings for Prince Andrew

(continued from P. 1)

your mum for 23 years."

Prince Andrew seemed particularly amused at the media boat, precariously laden with photographers as it preceded him through the lift-lock.

"I don't think that's very safe," he remarked.

Going down the Lift Lock on the cabin cruiser Paushel V, owned and driven by local man Manson Cathcart, was a new experience for the event's special guest.

"During my visit here I have sailed boats, inspected cattle, flown helicopters and turned the lights out on 20,000 people in Halifax. The one thing I have never done is descend 20 metres in a cast iron bathtub," he told the large crowd.

McBride welcomed Prince Andrew to Peterborough, an area "which has always been loyal to the Crown." He told Prince Andrew anytime he wanted to come back the city would roll out the red carpet.

viewed an antique boat show while being ferried down stream. At Lock 20 he came ashore and thanked members of the media for covering his tour.

The approximately 30 members of the Canadian and British press caused something of a different problem for waterway officals organizing the event.

"This is the opposite of what Parks Canada normally does," said Regional Information officer Bill Milliken.

"Usually I'm trying to attract the media, instead of roping off areas to keep them confined."

Prince Andrew told reporters he was sorry he didn't get to meet the Ontario press as he had their eastern counterparts in an informal reception in Halifax.

When asked when he might be returning to Canada Prince Andrew said he didn't know because "my naval duties take up a lot of time."

McBride was followed by federal Secretary of State Walter McLean, who said Prince Andrew "adds lustre to" the opening of the new Activity Centre.

McLean drew a mixed reaction from the crowd and a look from Peterson when he told Prince Andrew they would be happy to "roll out the blue carpet as well."

The opening featured the unveiling of a plaque and a tour of the facility which was finished just days earlier and features a theatre, a museum, a gift shop and a working model of the Lift Lock. Once again, Prince Andrew signed the guest book.

Huffman presented him with a Friends of the Trent Severn Waterway pin and a lifetime membership to the FTSW.

FTSW Member Alicia Perry then gave him a copy of "I Remember" a collection of interviews with people reminiscing about the canal as well as a reprinted 1911 tour book.

When she told Prince Andrew some of the ads in the book were quite funny he said "I'm sure they were serious at the time."

Prince Andrew's remarks were greeted enthusiastically by the crowd, as was the prince himself when he walked through the throng back to the canal.

"Andrew! Andrew! Prince Andrew over here!" young women cried as he walked past. Prince Andrew, who has developed a reputation for doing the unexpected in public, made it to the boat without incident, however.

Back onboard the Paushel V, he re-

Security tightened around him at this point as the police apparently hadn't been told Prince Andrew was going to talk directly to the media and several reporters were shouldered out of the way as he was hustled into a waiting car.

About 20 city police were on hand to traffic and security at the event, while the OPP contributed several constables and two police boats.

City police Staff Sergeant Bob Morris said from their point of view the event was "fantastic, there were no problems at all."

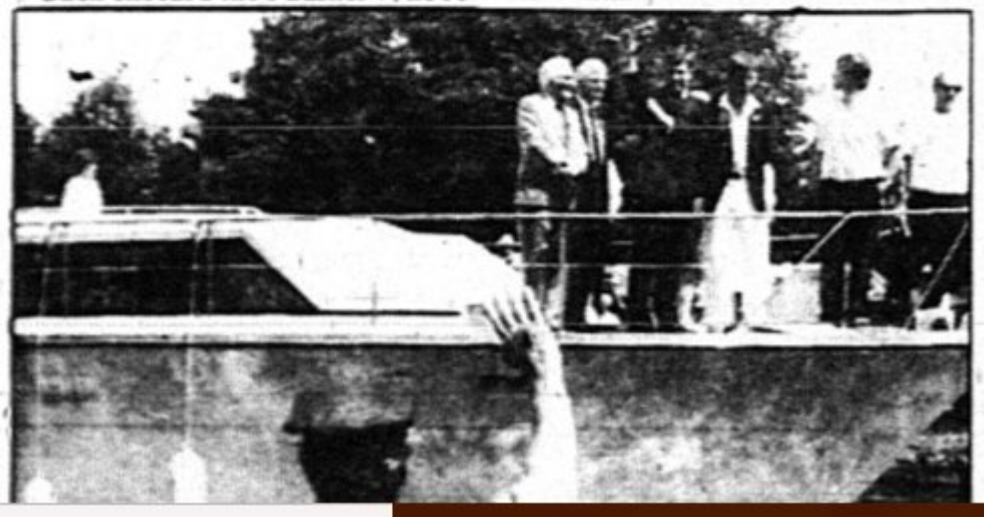
The Prince returned to Lakefield for a private evening and was scheduled to leave for home yesterday from Canadian Forces Base Trenton.

An incident at Peterborough Airport during the prince's arrival Saturday which was reported in the Globe and Mail as a "near mid-air crash" has been "blown out of proportion" according to airport manager Mel O'Brien.

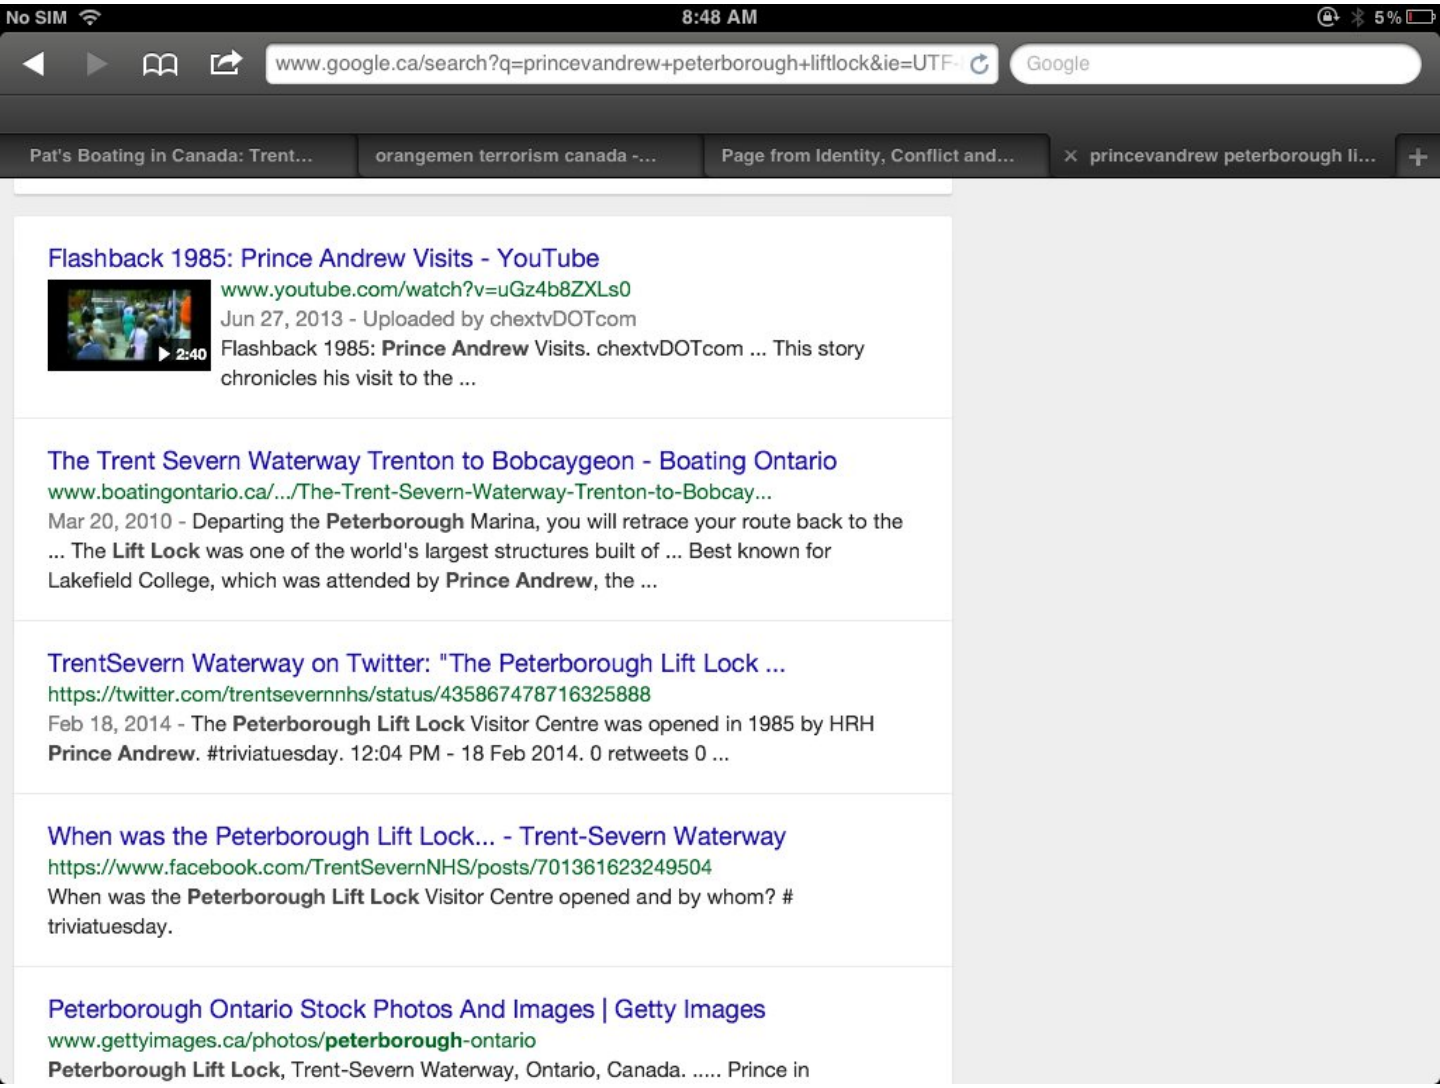
"There was no problem at all," he said.

According to O'Brien a small private plane landed at the airport just before Prince Andrew's Canadian Forces Cosmo 580 turbo-prop arrived. The pilot of the Canadian Forces plane decided to circle the airport before landing without incident.

He said while it may have been a breach of protocol for the private plane to be in the area at the time of arrival of Prince Andrew's aircraft, there was nothing unusual about it and "there was never any danger to start with."



Pr A video exists



No SIM
8:48 AM 5%
www.google.ca/search?q=princevandrew+peterborough+liftlock&ie=UTF-
Google
Pat's Boating in Canada: Trent... orangemen terrorism canada -...
Page from Identity, Conflict and... princevandrew peterborough li...
Flashback 1985: Prince Andrew Visits - YouTube
2:40
www.youtube.com/watch?v=uGz4b8ZXLs0
Jun 27, 2013 - Uploaded by chextvDOTcom Flashback 1985: Prince Andrew Visits. chextvDOTcom ... This story chronicles his visit to the ...
The Trent Severn Waterway Trenton to Bobcaygeon - Boating Ontario
www.boatingontario.ca/.../The-Trent-Severn-Waterway-Trenton-to-Bobcay...
Mar 20, 2010 - Departing the Peterborough Marina, you will retrace your route back to the ... The Lift Lock was one of the world's largest structures built of ... Best known for Lakefield College, which was attended by Prince Andrew, the ...
TrentSevern Waterway on Twitter: "The Peterborough Lift Lock ...
https://twitter.com/trentsevernnhs/status/435867478716325888
Feb 18, 2014 - The Peterborough Lift Lock Visitor Centre was opened in 1985 by HRH Prince Andrew. #triviatuesday. 12:04 PM - 18 Feb 2014. 0 retweets 0 ...
When was the Peterborough Lift Lock... - Trent-Severn Waterway
https://www.facebook.com/TrentSevernNHS/posts/701361623249504
When was the Peterborough Lift Lock Visitor Centre opened and by whom? # triviatuesday.
Peterborough Ontario Stock Photos And Images | Getty Images
www.gettyimages.ca/photos/peterborough-ontario Peterborough Lift Lock, Trent-Severn Waterway, Ontario, Canada. ..... Prince in

From: Andrea Armstrong Hide

To: Andrea Armstrong

Flashback 1985: Prince Andrew Visits

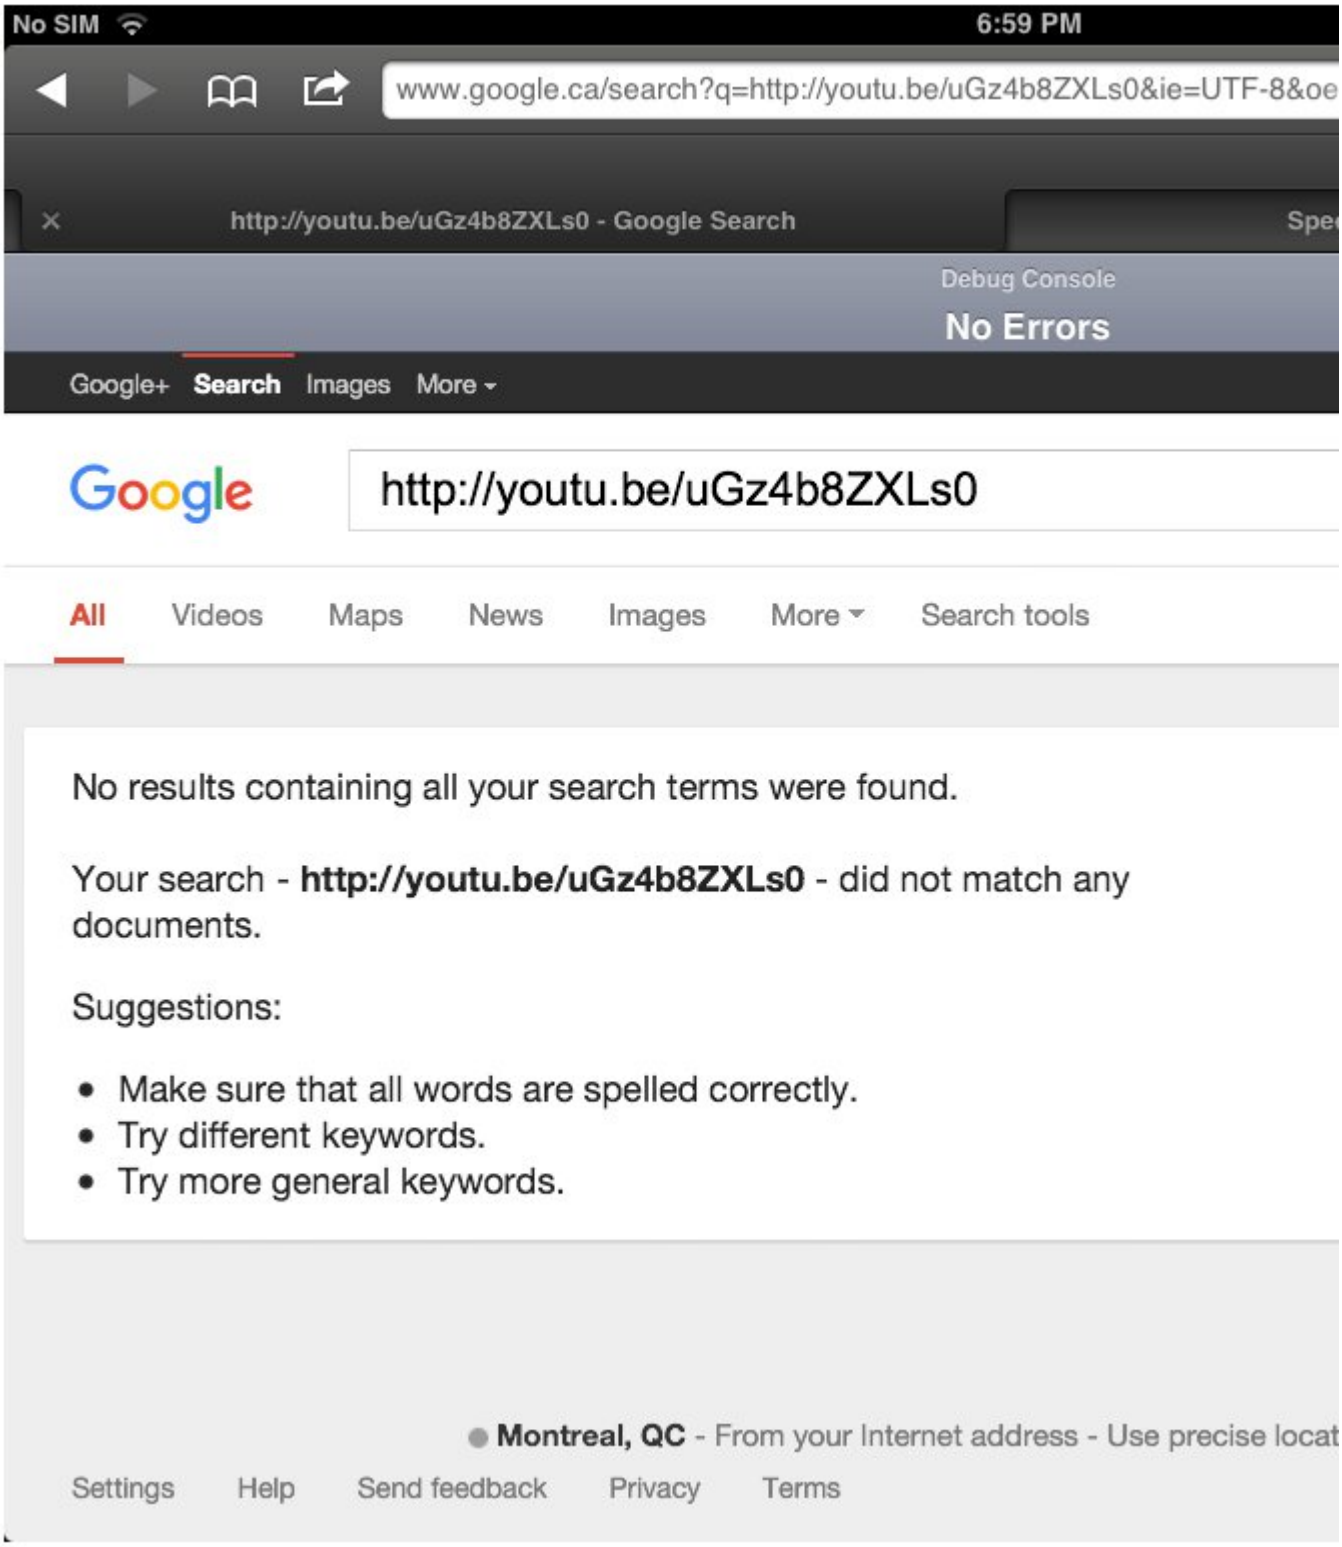
14 March, 2016 2:50 AM Mark

Check out this video on YouTube:

http://youtu.be/uGz4b8ZXLs0

Sent from my iPad

Pr A flashback deleted later in 2016



No SIM
6:59 PM
www.google.ca/search?q=http://youtu.be/uGz4b8ZXLs0&ie=UTF-8&oe
http://youtu.be/uGz4b8ZXLs0 - Google Search
Debug Console
No Errors
Google+ Search Images More
Google
http://youtu.be/uGz4b8ZXLs0
All Videos Maps News Images More Search tools
No results containing all your search terms were found.
Your search - http://youtu.be/uGz4b8ZXLs0 - did not match any documents.
Suggestions:
Make sure that all words are spelled correctly.
Try different keywords.
Try more general keywords.
Montreal, QC - From your Internet address - Use precise locat
Settings Help Send feedback Privacy Terms